PEACE AND GOOD WILL.

THE GATHERING OF THE CLANS AT SALISBURY.

The National Salute—Arrival of Visitors—Speeches From Statesmen and Soldiers—The Barbecue.

The streets were thronged at Salisbury on Thursday. The heavy trains came rolling in laden with those who wished to join in the great reunion of soldiers to take place there; to renew old friendships, and to talk about the old days when they met in the tented field; to form new associations, it might be, with those who had stood face to face with them when only a single word was sufficient to cause the murderous volleys to be poured into each other's ranks.

It was a red-letter day for Salisbury. Visitors came in from every direction until the number was estimated at from six to seven thousand. The weather was fine and everything seemed to combine to make everything pleasurable for all present.

AT SUNRISE

a salute of thirteen guns was fired, and soon the busy people were stirring. The streets were finely decorated, and some of the business houses put forth their best efforts in this manner. Visitors were met and kindly cared for, and after their natural wants were supplied the steady streams moved onward to the square, where the bands were assembled. At 10 o'clock the procession was formed by General Robert Ransom and his aids and moved forward to the Boyden House to escort the speakers to the grove. Here Governor Jarvis, Senator Vance, Judge Fowle and others took their position at the head of the procession and marched to the Grove south of the city that had been selected for the day's proceedings and festivities.

The grounds were beautifully decorated with flags, wreaths and flowers. Then another salute was fired by the artillery, after which the speaking commenced.

Charles Price, Esq., Chairman of the Executive Committee, made a short address of welcome, greeting in the name of Rowan county all present, and then introduced Governor Jarvis, who made a telling speech. He alluded to the day; the old traditions that made Salisbury renowned in the history of the State; to the war and its results; to the era of peace now prevailing, when the erstwhile enemies could now shake hands, rejoicing that the bloody days were over, never more, it was hoped, to be renewed. It was a soldierly speech, and set all right on the objects of the gathering.

He was followed by Senator Vance in a glorious address, the key note of which was that "The Constitution is the Union, and the Union is the Constitution—the terms were interconvertible and inseparable."

Judge Fowle then took the stand. His effort was the longest and most ornate. It was a finished, classical production, rather too much so, if anything, for a general assemblage. He was greeted with applause and retired with honor.

Then Rufus Barringer, Esq., was introduced. Mr. Barringer is not a born orator; his life business has not been of the nature to make him a finished speaker. Nevertheless he made one of the most patriotic speeches of the day. It was replete with good, sound, sense, and suggestions of a practical nature were made.

Mr. Price then introduced Major W. F. Halleck, of the United States Army, a relative (not a son) of General Henry W. Halleck, who in 1862 was commander-in-chief of the United States armies, and for a short time held the position of Secretary of War under President Lincoln. He spoke in substance as follows:

"I am not accustomed to public speaking. In fact I never attempted it before, and I am proud that my first effort should be on such an occasion as the present, for my whole soul is in this movement of reconciliation. It has been my desire for years to see a real union of the Blue and the Gray honorably established, and when I first heard that down here in Salisbury you intended to hold a reunion of the soldiers of both armies, my heart responded to the call; for it seemed to me that we who did the fighting ought to step to the front and discourage, discountenance and raise our voices against the party man or class of men who directly and indirectly attempt to secure public or private favor by reviving the passions begotten by the war. These are the men who, while pretending to sympathize with us, tell of the horrors of war, of prison pens, and in fact of all and of more than any soldier had to suffer; and in return for this devilish talk expect to ride into office on soldiers' votes. Then we must step to the front again. Comrades, these political demagogues must be taught that when we laid aside our arms we meant peace, and peace we will have. The soldiers of both sections must unite for this purpose and thus secure a lasting peace for our glorious but unhappy country. Few, very few, soldiers can be found who are unwilling to take a brother soldier by the hand, be he of the Blue or Gray, from the North or South. It is unnecessary that we should forget our brave comrades who have fallen and who cannot meet with us until that last great reunion; we can at least revere their memory and annually bedeck their graves with floral offerings. As Senator Ransom said, ten years ago in a memorial speech at Raleigh, "Thank God, there are flowers enough in this land of ours, and hearts gentle enough, and hearts good enough, to scatter them over both Blue and Gray." That was a grand and noble sentiment uttered ten years ago, ahead of public sentiment at that time, but thank God such utterances as came from your noble Senator then, meet now a cordial response from patriotic hearts in all parts of our glorious country."

Then General Vance arose and proposed three solid cheers for the Union officer, which were given with a will.

The following gentlemen then addressed the audience in the order named: Colonel Merrill, of Mississippi, the Hon. A. M. Scales, Colonel W. H. H. Cowles, Colonel William Johnston, and the Hons. William M. Robbins and J. M. Leach. All of the speeches were patriotic in the highest degree, breathing nothing but sentiments of devotion to the Union. They all acquitted themselves well. No imprudent expressions were made; everything was incapable of criticism by the most virulent foe of the South. The speaking continued until nearly 4 o'clock, when the masses adjourned to the barbecue. It was a tremendous affair. There was food enough displayed on the groaning boards to feed a multitude; and as the hungry crowd marched down to the tables the most perfect decorum was observed.

There was no disturbance throughout the day. It was an era of good feeling and well was it observed. A lady unattended could have gone through the crowd without inconvenience or insult.

And of such are our North Carolina people.

There were many capital points made by the speakers. The Hon. J. M. Leach was felicitous in his expressions. The Hon. W. M. Robbins made a comparative statemeot of this with other counties. He compared liberty as exemtified here with places abroad and asked, "Who would wish to exchange?" And with the intermingling of the sentiments expressed by the two last named gentlemen when they referred to North Carolina's stirling virtues as displayed by her citizens the question may be aptly asked, Do these gentlemen represent the sentiment of the Old North State? and as easily answered, "Yes!"

A Strange Story.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—John Long, a West Virginia planter, yesterday caused the arrest of his step-sister Emma, on a charge of insanity and unable to take care of herself. She is a pleasant featured, very bright woman, twenty-four years old and was taken before Justice Kilbreth. Long said she had become mentally afflicted from spinal disease and was sent to the Virginia State Asylum for the insane. She subsequently went to Philadelphia and disappeared. He learned that she was in New York and come to take her home. The girl denied that she was insane and astonished the Justice by her brilliant conversation. She said she was the daughter of a wealthy slave trader, her mother was married twice, and her step-father maltreated her and to escape from her sufferings she pretended to be insane and was committed to the asylum for a year. At the expiration of that time she went to Philadelphia as companion to a lady, and after that she came to New York. She declared she was perfectly sane and offered to submit to an immediate examination, but the magistrate assured her that it was unnecessary. If mentally affected at all she was perfectly harmless and was able to take care of herself and discharged her.

Fever Notes.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 24.—One new case since last evening, C. R. G. McDonald, druggist at the city hospital. Frost fell last night and was plainly visible this morning, notwithstanding the prevalence of a high wind. Thermometer at daylight 39°.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 24.—Two cases of fever reported this afternoon, S. S. Wright and Mary Snaley. The first named was attacked two days ago. Two additional deaths occurred (Charles Walker, colored, and C. W. Norton) eight miles out Poplar street boulevard.

Donations to the Howards aggregated $254.

All railroads running into Memphis will resume regular business Sunday—inspectors on trains. Pickets doing guard duty on the river front in the suburbs are to be disbanded to-morrow. Several passengers from Cincinnati and Louisville arrived this afternoon per Louisville railroad. There is a general return of absentees expected Monday. The present spell of cold weather is being taken advantage of by the sanitary force. The local board of health is having all dwellings thoroughly ventilated. The indications tonight are favorable for a light freeze as the thermometer at 5 P. M. had fallen to 53°.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 24.—Hon. John Johnston, superintendent of quarantine, has telegraphed J. D. Plunkett, president of the State board of health at Nashville, as follows: "The continued favorable cold weather, in my opinion, renders the transfers of freight and passengers, inspectors, pickets and patrols no longer necessary. With your approval they will be discontinued from and after to-day."

Revoluted Once More.

SAN DOMINGO, Oct. 24.—The citizens of Puerto Plata revolted on the 6th against President Guillermo. They issued a manifesto declaring the causes of the revolution to be adopted of the despotic constitution of 1854 by Guillermo, his complicity in the assassination of General Cains, the abuse of the public finances, especially the degradation of public honor in the recent affair with Spain.

The provisional government was formed with General Luperon as chairman. A recent fire in the town of Aseno destroyed a hundred houses. A loss of $200,000.

Billiard Match.

NEW YORK, October 24.—A billiard match between George Slosson, of New York, and Jacob Schaefer, of Chicago, for $4,000, commenced 1 st night in Madison Garden. The game consists of 3,000 points, 1,000 to be played each evening. The game is to be resumed from the position in which the balls are left by the player in hand. Schaefler ran out the first thousand with a run of three hundred and seventy-six, leaving Slosson at eight hundred and sixty-two.

The English Iron Trade.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—An important meeting of the leading firms in finished iron trades in South Staffordshire and East Worcestershire held at Birmingham yesterday to consider applications for an immediate advance of grades of operatives on the ground of improvement in trade, did not consider the state of trade as justifying any advance. It is probable arbitrators will be appointed to settle the question.

Minor Foreign Items.

FROM CLAYTON.

THE OPENING ADDREES OF PRESIDENT HEPTINSTALL.

The North Carolina Local Ministers' Conference of Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Special Correspondence o the News.

This Conference was established permanently in 1870, and convened that year at Durham. Since then it has held its annual sessions at Hickory, Franklinton, Marion. High Point, Kinston, Rutherford College, Jamestown, Charlotte and Clayton. The number of local ministers in North Carolina is about three hundred and sixty. These are represented in the Local Conference by one, two, or more delegates from each presiding elder's district. The conference is principally advisory and devotional.

This session opened Thursday afternoon, with John W. Heptinstall in the chair. The attendance is fair, and the hospitality of Clayton is all that could be desired.

Rev. Solomon Pool preached an excellent sermon at night. Below I give you the president's opening address:

DEAR BRETHREN: In attempting to discharge the duty imposed upon me as your president, by our constitution, I beg simply to appear suggestively before you, my dear brethren of the North Carolina Local Conference.

In the good providence of Almighty God, we have passed through the labors and cares of another conference year. The past has been a year of great prosperity. Many have been added to our roll. But in sadness we have to say that five of our members have been "called from labor to refreshments."

Co-working with our pastors, our labors have been in much harmony, and very many have been added to the church, "such as shall be saved," for which we should be profoundly thankful to the great God and Father of all our mercies. I congratulate you, brethren beloved, upon our success; and right happy am I to meet with so many of you to-day, who are still alive to duty, willing and anxious to spread the "glad tidings of great joy" to a perishing world, win souls to Christ, and thereby add luster to that "crown of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give to us that day. Our influence and power, as a separate ecclesiastical body, are being felt and acknowledged far beyond our own spere of action.

Many who heretofore opposed us, not knowing the purpose of our organization, are now ready to lend us a helping hand. Already many outspoken words of encouragement are heard in various directions. We have, doubtlessly, the approving smiles of our Heavenly Father.

Our pastors are unavoidably so situated as to made it impossible for them to do all. We should be faithful pioneers upon the outskirts, as we have been in the past, endeavoring to smooth the rough places for the self-sacrificing itinerants; and diligent at home, filling up the intervening spaces that cannot be reached by the regular work. Before us are vast and fertile fields. They are "white already to harvest." We should be ready to cast in our sickles to reap and bundle for immortal glory.

We should warn the wicked, admonish the wayward, strengthen the weak and stand by the bed of the dying to encourage them while passing through the dark valley of the shadow of death." As we, the North Carolina local ministers, have led off in this conference association, the eyes of our whole Southern church are turned upon us, we should, therefore, by example as well as by precept, exhibit a higher Christian life, attain and retain holiness of heart. We should also seek a higher state of mental culture that we may show ourselves approved workmen "that needeth not to be ashamed rightly divining the word of truth."

Every source of useful and legal information, especially our own church organs, deserves our special attention.

I approve the action of our last General Conference in relation to the course of study to be prescribed by our College of Bishops for the local ministry, provided that the course be not too rigid. We should exert our influence against those evil habits which have crept into the Church and even into the ministry. Evil habits, the most formidable of which is the use of whisky and tobacco. As to the use of the first it is unnecessary for me to make a single suggestion to you, my beloved brethren. You have doubtlessly witnessed its untold evils, and you will always be ready to raise against it your warning voice, As to the other, is it wrong? I am aware that you will expect me to tread softly here. Is it not a sin? I can view it in no other light, to say the least, it is a "needless self-indulgence." Should we not cry against it, as against any other vice? Try to persuade the young that the formation of the habit is not commendable; thus we shall aid to purge society of a curse, and the Church of a moral evil.

I believe that there are good people who use it from force of habit, just because they have never given the evil a serious investigation. But have you never felt a deep mortification while passing along the aisles of a church in witnessing the results of its use? We disclaim any connection with politics, yet we should use all our power in allaying sentimental strife, by teaching mutual dependence and brotherly love.

I would respectfully call attention in your deliberations to the action of the late General Conference, authorizing the trial of local ministers without a preliminary committee of ministers, and under charges brought by a single layman. We hope that you may take some action asking for a repeal of said law, as we think it an innovation upon our ancient landmarks.

Now, in closing these remarks, please suffer me, in the language of another, to say: A good local preacher is at home anywhere, and in five minutes he becomes interested in the salvation of the strangers within whose gates he tabernacles. I like to meet and commune with men who are frankly, sensibly, and heartily pious. Let us keep this characteristic of our annual gathering. Let us refresh our hearts with the sweet influences of praise and prayer. Let us look well to it that Clayton receives in spiritual blessing more than it gives in bodily refreshments. Let us find for ourselves a blessing beyond all price.

J. W. HEPTINSTALL.

LATE STATE NOTES.

Edenton Clarion.

The fast approach of the season causes the fisherman to turn his attention to next spring's operations.

Steam as applied to gin machinery in our vicinity, seems to be giving great satisfaction to those farmers who are trying it.

The fishermen in our bay, complain of the fact, that crabs are so numerous as seriously to injure their catching apparatus.

On Sunday night last, after an appropriate sermon, a collection was taken up in the Methodist Church, for the benefit of the decrepit and aged ministers of the Conference.

Elizabeth City Economist.

Maurice Baum, a respected citizen of Dare county had a fit while at his landing, fell overboard and drowned. Aged about fifty years.

We acknowledge receipt of a photograph of Mrs. Rebecca Hyman of Currituck county, the oldest person in this section of North Carolina, and perhaps in the whole State. The likeness was taken last summer. Her age when it was taken was one hundred and two years. Mrs. Hayman is still in health and comparatively active. She sometimes walks to visit neighbors, several miles distant.

Marshall News.

A child on Laurel recently fell from a grapevine swing and was killed.

Several droves of horses and mules have passed through town going south.

Our lawyers have turned clerks and carpenters, legal business is so dull. This is all the better for the county, but death to the lawyers.

Sheriff Tweed and a company of gipsies had quite a lively time in town last week. A fight seemed imminent, but the gipsies compromised by forking over five double eagles and the sheriff smiled.

Albemarle Enquirer.

It is said that the Hertford Light Infantry is to have a Gatling gun.

The cotton crop was never so near out at this time, in this section. It will be much smaller than was expected.

Mr. Braxton T. Flythe got his arm caught and crushed in a steam gin in Northampton county on Friday last. Drs. Eldridge, Sebrell and Cole were called and decided that amputation was necessary. We are glad to learn Mr. Flythe is now doing well.

As we go to press, we are informed that some unknown parties went to the house of a gentleman on Sunday night last, tied his wife and daughter and threatened to kill him if he did not give up the money he had just sold his cotton for. The money was given up, and the parties left. At present we withhold the names for good reasons.

Winston Sentinel.

Partridges are plenty in our fields this season. Some attribute the exceptional supply to the dry summer which is said to be favorable for the increase of these birds. Be that as it may, the sportsmen know there is game, and dog and gun are brought into ready use.

The very heavy mast in the woods this season attracts the wild pigeons. Large numbers of the birds are now to be found in the woods around town. We hear of one Nimrod who bagged forty in a short time.

Winston manufacturers will manufacture a million more pounds of tobacco next year than ever before. The present year they have worked largely in excess of any previous year, and most of them have already sold out and are not able to fill their orders. Wherever Winston tobacco takes hold it takes, and the demand increases every day.

ENGLAND AND AFGHANISTAN.

Lord Lytton's Plan of Governing the Conquered Country.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—A cable special from London, dated 22d, gives the following: A cabinet council met this afternoon in Downing street, and the question of the settlement of Afghanistan was discussed. I am informed on excellent authority that a plan devised by the governor general of India in council was submitted to it and met with general approval. The plan was, in the first place, that Afghanistan should not be annexed. Since the mutiny the policy of annexation in India has seldom recommended itself to the conservatives. Lord Lytton's project is that Afghanistan shall in future be placed on the footing that the Nizam of Hyderabad's dominions now occupy. The Nizam is bound by treaties with England, in virtue of which he nominates his own vizier, and the British resident at Hyderabad is the effective minister. The government stipulates to recognize his hereditary rank and privileges so long as he remains faithful to the terms of the treaties. It guarantees that the titular dignity, social prestige and private rights of his family shall not be invaded. This privilege and these guarantees are to be conferred on some member of the present Ameer's family.

It is believed that Yakoob Khan's abdication will be gladly accepted by the authorities at Simla. His successor has not yet been designated. But this much is certain that an English resident will be placed at Cabul, and that through him the British government will henceforth exercise a direct influence over the fortunes of the State. A strong contingent of native and English troops will be maintained in the country, commanded as at Hyderabad. English officers will be exclusively chosen. The revenue of Afghanistan will be collected by native officials, as in the non-regulation provinces of Hindostan, but they will be under the eye of British superintendents. The army will be maintained as in Hyderabad. It will be distinctly stated that the system is adopted to protect the people from native tyrants, and it is believed that the leading officials at Cabul are already themselves well disposed to some such method of government. The Governor General's project, which is said from internal evidence to be the work of some of the honest and most experienced members of the council, and probably of Sir John Strackey, late Lieutenant Governor of the Northwest Provinces, received the earnest attention of the cabinet. My informant adds that it was very favorably received.

But the Anglo-Russian imbroglio is as far as ever from a solution. Lord Salisbury's speech is said to have raised the strongest resentment at St. Petersburg and Count Schouvaloff has definite instructions to remain here until Lord Beaconsfield has spoken at the coming Lord Mayor's banquet on November 9th. He will then probably leave unless the premier's speech is pitched in quite another key from that of Lord Salisbury. The advices from Constantinople that Prince Lebanoff would succeed Schouvaloff have been confirmed by dispatches from the Russian capital. Matters are here believed to have assumed the most serious aspect. Prince Gortschakoff will probably soon go to Livadia, and the result of his consultation with the Czar form already a theme of liveliest discussion, not unmixed with anxiety. It is certain that the bitterness is increasing from day to day.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says the Russian press expresses great indignation at Lord Salisbury's allusions.

NORTH CAROLINA SYNOD.

THE ASSEMBLAGE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Opening Sermon by the Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, D. D., Moderator—List of Ministers and Ruling Elders.

The Synod of North Carolina met according to adjournment, at the Presbyterian Church, Statesville, at 7:0 o'clock yesterday evening, and was opened with an able and highly appropriate sermon by the Moderator, Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, D. D., of Wilmington, from Revelations, 5th chap., 7th verse: "I beheld, and, lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, stood a lamb, as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God sent forth into all the earth; and He came and took the Book out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne."

The venerable divine showed that the Book of Revelations consists of a series of symbolical—or pictorial—representations, or visions, and that many are hard to understand. The text forms a portion of this mysterious writing, which he explained satisfactorily and profitably. He said that this is a part of that vision in which John was inspired to contemplate Jesus Christ in the attitude of one claiming His rightful sovereignty—exalted as He is amid the highest honors—and exercises a sway by which all the faces of creation shall, willingly or unwillingly, be made to contribute to the final triumph of His supreme authority. The gate of heaven is seen to be thrown open, "and behold a throne was sat therein, and one sat upon the throne," which is itself arched by a brilliant rainbow, as though taken up from earth, where it had long suggested hope to God's people, and now placed as a permanent decoration of the scene where all that hope enjoy its realization. He followed up his text in an unusually argumentative discourse of fifteen or twenty minutes.

After the sermon, Synod was constituted with prayer.

The stated clerk then called the roll, and the following ministers and Elders were found to be present:

ORANGE PRESBYTERY.

Ministers—T U Faucett, Jos. M Atkinson, F H Johnston, D E Jordan, J C Alexander, C N Marrow, W B Tidball, L C Vass, J H Fitzgerald, C Eiller, T J Allison and P R Law.

Ruling Elders—T B Donnel, J B Burwell.

CONCORD PRESBYTERY.

Ruling Elders—R A McNeely, A J Neel, J G Potts, J W Moore, J Monteith, J M Hanna, J D Johnston, E L Cleghorn, R I McDowell, J H McClintock.

Rev. Dr. Wood, pastor of this church, was nominated for Moderator, but was by vote of Synod allowed to withdraw his name.

Rev E. F. Rockwell, of Concord Presbytery, was then unanimously elected Moderator, and Rev. C. C. Alexander, of Orange Presbytery, and Col. H. C. Hamilton, of Concord Presbytery (Lenoir) were chosen temporary clerks.

Professor Rockwell, on taking the chair, made some interesting statements concerning the early history of the church in which Synod met, and asked the indulgence of Synod for his inexperience,

Synod then adjourned with prayer by the Moderator.

Is It So?

Rochester Morning Herald.

George William Curtis' ambition has mastered his patriotism and left him stranded on the political shores—"a woeful sight for gods and men."—Concord Monitor.

It is an extraordinary kind of ambition. He was offered the English mission, and refused it. He went into the Saratoga Convention and voted against the predominant sentiment of his party, as represented there. He went home and wrote an editorial for his paper, advising his friends to "scratch" the names of two candidates on the State ticket, thus placing himself in opposition to his party in this State and forfeiting the prestige of regularity as a Republican. He wrote a letter resigning his place at the head of the Richmond county Republicans, and his resignation was accepted. He protests, with a manliness, every manly man must admire, whatever may be thought of his judgment, against trickery in politics and the subserviency of public officials to party dictation. He cuts himself loose from all the ordinary channels for reaching public station and gratifying political ambition. His ambition may have "mastered his patriotism," but he has an entirely original way of showing it.

Queer Sign Boards.

Winston Sentinel.

The "up country" tradesmen do not go to much expense in advertising. They bring the mush room growth upon forest trees into requisition, upon the surface of which is marked in hieroglyphic style, the name and location of an enterprising firm." This is no myth, but a fact, and in possession of Miss C. Jones, in Salem, is a specimen of this novel method of advertising, which she found sitting against a tree, en route home, from a visit to relatives residing upon the north western borders of the Old North State. It wouldn't be pleasant to hear the wail of a printer, who might by chance migrate to that section to dwell.

Accidental Poisoning.

A little three year old son of Mr. William Sullivan, a shoemaker in this town, met a very sad death from drinking a solution of potash. It seems that on Saturday last the mother of the boy had mixed a weak solution of potash in a wine glass, which the boy drank during an unguarded moment. Drs. Robinson, Kirby and Moore did all in their power to save the little sufferer, and to alleviate his pains, but their efforts failed, and on Monday death came to his relief.

An Important Case.

Tarboro Southerner.

On Friday of last week the sheriff of Edgecombe, Battle Bryan, and his jailor, James Cromwell, colored, were tried and convicted, under Section 37, Chapter 32, Battle's Revisal, for the escape of Asbury Thorne, colored, awaiting sentence for arson of Sharp & Weathersbee's gin house. The State proved the escape. The defense offered to prove that the sheriff made a good appointment in his jailor, Cromwell, and gave instructions to have prisoners safely guarded. Upon objection, this was ruled out by the court, His Honor confining the defense to the particular case. It was proven by the State that the jailor had, on previous occasions, permitted Thorne to come down under guard to cut wood and to go to the well to draw water, the State contending that this of itself was an escape in view of the law. The court charged the jury if the jailor was negligent or willful in permitting the escape, the sheriff would be equally guilty—the act of the one being the act of the other. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of negligence. The solicitor not praying judgment on the sheriff, which, under the law, would have involved his removal from office, the same was suspended and the sheriff was required to report the efficiency of his guard and the security of his prisoners to the next term of this court. He was also required to remove his jailor. We publish this case thus fully that other sheriffs may take warning.

It Pays.

Tarboro Southerner.

Patrich H. Taylor, living in Rocky Mount Township in this county, has placed on our table a bottle of beautifully clear and well flavored sorghum syrup. Mr. Taylor planted a piece of ground, ordinary piney-woods land, seventy five yards long by twenty-five wide, a little over one-third of an acre, in sorghum this year, which yielded him sixty gallons. The rows were four feet apart. Only ten days have been required in preparing the land, cultivating the crop and saving the syrup. Mr. Taylor very readily sells his syrup for fifty cents per gallon. Sixty gallons of syrup at fifty cents per gallon, brings $30. At this rate an acre would yield $90. On this average pine land, Mr. Taylor put no manure this year. He tells us five select stalks made one gallon and one pint—one of the stalks weighing a pound and a half.

A Peach Tree Bears a Pumpkin.

Hartford (Ky.) News.

One of the most remarkable of nature's curious freaks can be seen in the garden of Mr. Caleb Crow, of this place. It is nothing more nor less than a peach tree bearing a full grown pumpkin. This tree bore none of its natural fruit this season; but nevertheless, there hangs the healthy growing pumpkin, just as it has grown from this blossom to its present size, which is considerably larger than a man's head.

And Still They Do It.

Wadesboro Herald.

Last Wednesday night some person entered the dwelling house of Mr. C. M. Burns, but was discovered before he succeded in getting anything. In jumping out of the window he lost his hat, which we hope will lead to his detection. On the same night some one entered the residence of Mr. Samuel Shepherd and took his trunk out of the house and rifled it—leaving the trunk in the yard. It is to be hoped these burglars may be caught and punished by dangling on the first convenient limb.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wilder, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often."

"Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy. I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars' worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time. I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time."

"Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter."

GUILTY OF MURDER.

HERTFORD'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE GALLOWS.

The Trial of William H. Vann for the Murder of James H. Gatling Last September.

Albemarle Enquirer.

One of the most important and interesting trials ever known in Hertford took place last week. Only about one-half of the business was done in consequence thereof. It was the trial of W. H. Vann for the murder of James H. Gatling, which took place in this county on the 2d day of September. On Wednesday the prisoner was arraigned at the bar, and plead "not guilty." One hundred and fifty persons were summoned as a special venire from which to get a jury to try the case. The State was represented by C. W. Grandy, Solicitor; and Hon. J. J. Yeates, Captain R. B. Peebles, and B. B. Winborne, and W. D. Pruden, Esq., represented the prisoner. On Thursday a jury was obtained out of the one hundred and fifty, after much difficulty. On that day and on Friday and Saturday there were never before so many citizens attending one trial in Hertford county. Prominent among them, was Dr. Richard J. Gatling, brother of the deceased, and inventor of the celebrated Gatling Gun. Without giving the minute details of the evidence, it was substantially as follows:

On the night of September 1st, the father of the prisoner went coon hunting, and returned about 11 o'clock, and set his gun down. Vann, the prisoner, stole the gun, which was loaded with buck shot, got a club and went to a place on Meherrin river, known as Dargan's Landing, and there got a boat, paddled up the river, landed in a tree top to hide his boat, got out and walked about two miles to the hog pen of Gatling and stationed himself behind a large pine to await his approach. About half an hour by the sun Gatling came, as was his custom, to feed his hogs. When in about thirty yards of the pine he was fired upon and riddled with buckshot—was afterward shot in the head and clubbed. Shortly thereafter Vann was seen returning from that direction, went home and denied having shot anything. Was arrested, the gun was found loaded with squirrel shot, and his coat tail bespotted with blood. He had torn a portion of his coat tail off and endeavored to wash it and clean it. The torn piece fit the rent, and was of the same goods, and blood appeared on both. He afterward admitted his guilt and stated he did it because he was mad with Mr. Gatling.

The prisoner, through his counsel pleaded not guilty, and if guilty, in fact, insanity as an excuse. He showed he had been considered a lunatic at previous times. In view of these facts and many other circumstances, after able speeches by the counsel pro and con, the jury, after a fair and comprehensive charge by Judge Gudger, retired to make their verdict 11:30, Saturday night. In twenty minutes they returned, and while breathless silence was all over the crowded court house, the significant word "guilty," was heard from the mouth of the foreman, and then from each of the jury.

No time was lost, for the dawn of the Sabbath was near at hand. Only a few moments before the clock struck 12, Judge Gudger ordered in slow and solemn tone that W. H. Vann be "hanged by the neck until dead, on the 14th day of December, 1879." The counsel for the prisoner notified the court that he would take an appeal to the Supreme court.

Died,

At the residence of his father, B. J. Perkinson, Esq., near Raleigh, on the 12th of October, James M. Perkinson, eldest son of Benjamin and Eliza Perkinson, in the twentieth year of his age.

The subject of this notice was a young man of fine promise, and universally beloved. He had been uniformly obedient to his parents, and was possessed of an excellent moral character. He was visited by the Rev. Thomas E. Skinner, and was converted and rejoiced in Christ a week or two before his death. He died peacefully and calmly, without apparent pain, of consumption, and we are consoled by the blessed belief that he is now in glory. Dr. Skinner preached his funeral sermon in the presence of a large number of sympathizing friends and neighbors.

Carolina Rifle Club.

This club had its fourth target match yesterday afternoon, at the two hundred yard range. The shooting was not up to the average, and the attendance was not large. The following was the score:

Batchelor, W. P.	2-3-0-2-3—10
Burkhead, C W.	3-0-3-5-3—14
Busbee, W. M.	0-3-2-3-3—11
Ferrall, J. F.	2-2-0-2-2—8
Ferrall, J. R.	2-3-3-0-3—11
Olds, F. A.	4-4-4-3-4—19
Pullen, J. T.	3-4-4-4-4—19
Primrose, W. S.	0-0-3-2-0—5

The tie between Messrs. Pullen and Olds was not shot off. The club will shoot again next Thursday. It is understood that a gold badge is to be offered as a prize.

Lincke's Gymnasium.

The NEWS reporter yesterday paid a visit to this place, located on the third floor of the Adams Building, corner Wilmington and Martin streets.

The Hall is nicely fitted up and is something new here as a permanency. He has a complete gymnasium in the center of the hall; a ten pin alley to the right of the gymnasium and on the other side of the hall is a shooting gallery.

Everything is complete and will be opened for the first time on Tuesday night, when everyone is invited free. After that an admission fee will be charged.

The ladies are especially invited, and all attending upon this evening will be permitted five shots at the shooting gallery free. At last the young people of this city are to have a nice, respectable place to spend their evenings, and it is their bounden duty to patronize and sustain Mr. Lincke in this his new undertaking. He has been at great expense in fitting this establishment up

Delay in Scribner for November.

Owing to the large edition, increased size, double frontispieces, etc., of the November number of Scribner's Monthly and St. Nicholas, it has been found necessary to appoint the day of issue later than usual. Scribner's Monthly (edition 100,000) will be ready October 22d. It will be "an agricultural number," containg half a dozen papers of the highest interest to farmers and others interested in rural life, besides a portrait and copy of bas-relief of Bayard Taylor, and the beginning of a new serial story by George W. Cable. St. Nicholas, permanently enlarged, printed on heavier paper, with wider margins, and having many special attractions, will be issued on the 25th. New volumes of both magazines are

DAILY NEWS

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1879.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

THE proprietor of the Statesville Landmark is issuing a daily edition of his paper during the session of the Presbytery at that place. Enterprise seems to be the gaining ground in the State.

WE have received the first number of the Madison County News, published at Marshall, by Mr. P. A. Cummins. This, we believe, is the first attempt at establishing a newspaper in that county, and it is to be hoped the effort will prove successful.

John Kelly has no time to devote now to swapping horses. He proposes to let the mare go through.—Washington Republican.

Perhaps Mr. Kelly has no horses to swap. When Mr. Kelly announced his boom in the columns of the New York Star, it was through the words of Captain Isaiah Rynders, of ancient Democratic renown. If our memory serves us rightly Captain Rynders handed up an ode to be sung at the meeting held to ratify Mr. Kelly's self-imposed nomination, the first stanza of which runs in this wise:

And shall old Tammany Hall be crushed?
And shall John Kelly die?
Then sixty thousand Democrats
Will know the reason why!

And now the word comes that Captain Rynders has deserted Mr. Kelly and joined the Robinson army. This is a very serious defection in Mr. Kelly's camp, as Captain Rynders controls a large quantity of the Democratic rough vote in the city. Verily Mr. Kelly has no time to devote to swapping horses for the simple reason that the horses have stampeded, leaving nothing but the mules.

IT is time to stop flinging mud at the South. Read what the Milwaukee Sentinel says in regard to the horrible atrocities enacted in the Milwaukee house of correction:

This institution is used at the discretion of the court as a State prison. An intelligent convict just released, whose character for veracity is vouched for by prominent persons who know him intimately, states that he has been an inmate for two years. All that time he was not allowed to write to his counsel, friends or family, who supposed him dead. He says the bread furnished to the convicts is made from damaged cow feed and cannot be baked, and that this stuff is paid for by the county at the rate of $5 per barrel. During his confinement embryo calves, dogs, and glandered horses have been furnished as meat, and he brings the bones, which are now in the possession of the editor of the Sentinel, to prove it. The details in this respect are horrible beyond description. Of the brutalities of the keepers he says the prisoners were beaten and confined in the black hole, which is a filthy dog-kennel of five feet four inches by five feet. A man cannot lie at full length in this kennel, nor is there any ventilation to it. The floor is covered with indescribable filth. Men are placed there for twenty-five days at a time, and two to his knowledge have died from the effects described. There is a chair factory connected with the institution, and it is charged that the police are in collusion with the superintendent to kidnap men to work at chair making. The whole story is the most startling and revolting ever published in this country, and it is claimed that the charges can all be verified.

THE SALISBURY REUNION.

Despite the chilling answers sent in response to courteous invitations to attend the reunion of Confederate soldiers, the affair met with marked success. A day may come when some of those invited will regret the form of declination used to rid themselves of what they evidently considered a burden. Others who may deem it wise and fitting to make an effort in the direction instituted by the people of Rowan county will make a note and save themselves the surprise and pain of a non-appreciation of their feeling.

But let this pass. Those who read our report of the proceedings will be glad to learn that a better feeling—a feeling permeated with the strongest hope of future harmony, pervaded the whole assemblage.

And this is as it should be. Without peace and harmony and general good fellowship prevailing throughout the whole country we might as well throw the chances of a glorious future of the Republic to the four winds.

The speeches at Salisbury made by representative men of North Carolina—soldiers who had fought and bled for the "Lost Cause;" statesmen who had held to the theory of secession until they saw it was of no avail, and who wish to stand by the Constitution as it now exists; tillers of the soil, who contrast the country as it now stands with other countries and glory in its advantages—all these were there and rendered their testimony. There was not a sentiment expressed that a cavilling Radical (we will not use the term Republican in this sense) politician could have taken exception to and converted into political capital. We will not allude to the speeches of these who grace Congressional halls or executive mansions. Plain Rufus Barringer undoubtedly made the speech of the day. It was not couched in courtly language; it was not replete with classical allusions; it lacked perhaps the florid sentences and rounded periods that mark the graceful speaker, but the pith of the whole matter was there. The days of 1861 are gone, but they have left their sorrowful remembrances. A new departure had to be taken at the close of the war, and our people have buckled on their knapsacks for the forward journey. We may be villified and denounced for the sins of the few, but it will not impede the march. We have scanned the future, and by our labor must we make our position. Mr. Barringer spoke the plain sentiment of the people, and let professional politicians take heed.

Major Halleck undoubtedly represented the sense of the army. There are some, of course, who have a natural bias the other way. They are undoubtedly honest in their opinions. But it is through such gatherings as this at Salisbury that sentiment must be corrected.

Put the slandering politicians, eager for place and profit at any price, out of the way, and the different sections will assimilate; there will be no trouble on sectional scores. Feed them and flatter them, and the [illegible] hatred will continue. As Major Halleck said, "It is time for those who did the fighting to step to the front."

WHITEWASHING.

Exceptions may have been taken to our article of yesterday in relation to "moonshining." Gentlemen readers, the half has not been told.

Despite the well-meaning intentions of the Charlotte Observer, which paper we do not hold responsible for the statements made by revenue agents, we have to pronounce the upshot of the Gastonian investigations a clear case of whitewashing.

Fraud does exists in Gaston county in connection with licensed distilleries, and we are prepared to prove what we say. The article copied from the New York Journal of Commerce is true in every inferential clause.

And now we will ask certain questions—or rather make certain propositions:

There were four barrels of whisky, unstamped, discovered hidden near one distillery.

There we five barrels and one hogshead of whisky, unstamped, in close proximity to another.

There was an excess of dry tubs in one of the suspected distilleries. There was also an excess in the number of dry inches.

Why was this not accounted for?

Why was the Government keeper absent from his post of duty?

How does it come that false keys to the cistern rooms have been produced—and these locks are presumed to have been sealed; as the law directs? There were no seals placed on those cistern rooms, and they were easily entered by false keys.

Fair play, gentlemen; don't damn the "moonshiners!" Do not lay everything to their doors. They are bad enough we will allow, but they don't defraud the Government under the sanctity of its garb!

Now, while we are willing to allow that Collector Mott was thoroughly honest in the whole matter, would not the question be pertinent, "Are his subordinates likewise?" A full report has been forwarded to Washington, and Commissioner Raum must take cognizance of the matter, or matters will be made hot. We know whereof we speak.

To recapitulate:

Dry tubs are used—in excess of the legal regulations—where they ought to be empty.

Dry inches are used in fermenting tubs—an excess is made and stolen away.

Storekeepers are not watchful. One distiller has shipped since the 1st of January last 4,000 gallons more than he has produced, according to his books.

And yet the "moonshiners" are defrauding the revenue!

It has become a common cry from Baltimore to Atlanta that honest dealers could not live, owing to the rascalities perpetrated by men wearing the government livery.

The false keys of these cistern rooms have been found and are now in the possession of a revenue agent.

And still by some hocus-pocus government officials can secure a "whitewashing."

POLITICAL NOTES.

The South will have the naming of the next Democratic candidate. If the South has any sense it will name Bayard.—Springfield Republican.

The New York Herald thinks it probable that the Robinson Democrats may become so demoralized that they will insist on the Governor's withdrawal and the substitution of Hon. Clarkson N. Potter as the head of the ticket, and it expresses the opinion that this would have a very discouraging effect on the Republicans.

Congressman Felton, of Georgia, a leading independent, in a recent speech, said that he would be a candidate for Congress so long as his constituents might wish him to serve them, but under no circumstances could he be induced to accept the nomination for Governor, or to be a candidate for that position.

The Disgraced Secretaries.

Springfield Republican.

Secretary Evarts spoke for the New York Republicans last night at Cooper Institute and Secretary Sherman speaks next Monday evening at the same place and for the same object. The Republican candidate for Governor, A. B. Cornell, was removed from office, as naval officer of the port of New York, by Secretary Sherman for his defiance to the President's order in continuing to run politics while holding Federal office. Mr. Cornell was ousted only after a prolonged struggle. He is now nominated for Governor on the strength of the influence in local politics illegitimately acquired by the prostitution of his Federal office to political purposes. It is therefore a nomination which Republicans who believe in civil service reform cannot support. Mr. Evarts and Mr. Sherman know this, but they consent to leave their consciences at Washington and to repair to Cooper Institute in succession to be exhibited as cabinet ministers of the administration, truckling to a party purpose. They stand before the audience as mere simulacra of the men they once were, and in a pusillanimous attitude. They were under no obligation to assist in Mr. Cornell's canvass or in the Republican canvass in New York. The Republican party of that State has done nothing for the Administration, but has opposed it at at every step. We think it would have been decidedly more dignified, as well as more in consonance with the principles of the Administration, if from Mr. Hayes down it had treated the New York canvass with the indifference which should characterize the attitude of the national Administration toward the effort of any local faction to triumph by insult to itself.

Another Gin House Burned.

Tarboro Southerner.

It fills us with sorrow to chronicle the loss of two large gin houses and their contents, steam power and apparatus, owned by Captain T. W. Battle, in this county, on Saturday night last by fire. Mr. D. H. Barlow, our informant, tells us that about one hundred and fifty bales of cotton in the seed, lint and already packed were also consumed. Of this ninety-one bales were packed, and perhaps thirty-one of these were saved. The houses, gins and other cotton are a complete loss. Captain Battle used steam power, and is uncertain whether the burning was the work of an incendiary or not. The fire was at first noticed between 2 and 3 o'clock Sunday morning. This would indicate the fiendish hand of an incendiary. The gin houses were large and connected by a platform. Mr. Barlow estimates the loss at $10,000. Captain Barlow has offered $100 reward for the conviction of the incendiary. This shows his belief as regards the burning.

Capture and Escape of Millen.

Statesville Daily Landmark, 23d.

Mr. Hampton heard that Millen was in the neighborhood, and after searching sometime found him in the yard of a neighbor. Mr. Hampton clinched him and then made known his business when Millen surrendered. However, the first opportunity afforded he bolted off with the fleetness of a deer, and has not been heard of since. It is supposed that he made for Tennessee, as it was but a short distance from the line.

"Woven Air."

New Orleans Times.

The Decca muslins of India are among the most wonderful evidences of the hand-skill of the strange people of the mysterious East. These fabrics, which are spun and woven entirely by hand, are the product of obscure and curious processes, unknown to and unattainable by the Western nations, like the fabrication of Damascus steel and the making of camel's hair shawls, are marvels of ingenuity and skill, and they illustrate the poetry of cotton. The most delicate of these fabrics is known by the name of "woven air." It can only be made in the early morning and in the evenings, when the air is full of moisture and the dew is on the grass. The processes by which it is woven are kept secret, any the people who do the work are compelled first to pass through a long course of training and initiation. Their delicate wares are of such ethereal texture as to be almost invisible, and yet are so enduring that they will bear washing and wear in a wonderful manner. This precious stuff is monopolized for the use of the ladies of the Oriental harems, and is said to be worth hundreds of dollars per yard.

No Exaggeration.

Secretary Evarts will deliver one of his sentences in Cooper Institute, New York, to-night. It will probably be two hours long and will treat of politics.

VEGETINE.

Behold Me a Well Woman.

CANCER.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 26, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON.

DEAR SIR:—I have for years been a sufferer from a dreadful CANCER in my side which caused me untold agony, and as I am a widow with a family depencent upon my exertions for a support, my pain of body was only equalled by my pain of mind, at seeing my children want for bread. I was presented by a kind friend in Cincinnati with half a dozen bottles of Vegetine, and although one bottle is still untouched, behold me a well woman, completely restored in body and mind, and able to perform my accustomed duties. Long may you live! and may the history of my wonderful cure lead other like sufferers to purchase your valuable medicine, if it is with the last cent they possess.

Yours gratefully,
MRS. FULLER SUTT.

I write this to certify that I have known Mrs. Fuller Sutt from childhood, and have seen the hours of agony, that her patient womanhood has been called upon to endure. She has suffered untold agonies and now sits beside me in perfect health with her child upon her knee. The prayers of this grateful woman will ever be yours, my noble sir, and we add our testimony to the thousands that favor the greatest of all modern discoveries, 'Vegetine.'

Yours respectfully,
MRS. CHELLET SUMMER.

SUFFERED 25 YEARS.

Piles, Rheumatism.

GOODMAN, MISS., May 6, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON:

I have been suffering for 25 years with the Piles and found but little relief from any medicine that I have taken for many years past. Last winter I suffered considerably worse than ever before, also in connection with Rheumatism I was confined to my bed for several weeks. Having procured a bottle of Vegetine I took it with good effect. I continued the use, and after taking four or five bottles, find myself comparatively cured. I can cheerfully recommend it for the benefits that I have received from it.

Yours respectfully,
J. W. TAGGART.

LUNG DISEASE.

SELMA, ALA., May 12, 1872.

H. R STEVENS, BOSTON:

I take great pleasure in recommending your Vegetine. I have been suffering for a long time with the Lung Disease; trying every kind of medicine that I could get, but none seemed to do me any good, until I tried your great Vegetine remedy. I had used it only a short time before I could discover a very great change in my health for the better. I don't consider that your medicine has its equal, for the diseases which you propose to cure, especially the disease that I have been afflicted with YELLOW TOBACCO.

A Description of its Growth and the Manner of Treatment.

By way of introduction it is perhaps appropriate to say that while tobacco has been grown in this State from its very earliest settlement, yet the production of the bright yellow is a new industry. Ten years ago the flue curing process was hardly known even in Granville county, which has been very appropriately styled the "Home of Yellow Tobacco."

This tobacco has been analyzed by a distinguished and learned European chemist, and found to be almost devoid of those moral constituents which are considered injurious to human health, and to their absence is due the peculiar delicate flavor possessed by no other tobacco in the world. This fact has not only given yellow tobacco the world-wide reputation it now enjoys, but has created a demand, which keeps it continually advancing in price from year to year. While it has made famous the smoking brands of Durham, its manufacture into cigarettes is increasing with enormous rapidity.

It is a settled fact that the area of territory in which this class of tobacco can be produced, is a very limited one, and there need be no fear of an over production. It is believed that this area extends from near the coast growth in this State, on the Roanoke, Tar, Neuse and their tributaries, westward to the Yadkin and as far as our extreme western border, as well as more or less over the adjacent border counties of Virginia. The light gray soils of these localities are peculiarly adapted, while the climate and seasons seem to be such as to bring the plant to a degree of perfection elsewhere unknown.

This golden industry promises to be one of the chief sources of North Carolina wealth, and it was thought by the Executive Committee of the Agricultural Society to be of such importance as to lead them to invite a tobacco planter to read an essay setting forth the most approved methods of culture, curing and preparation for market of so valuable a production, and to that duty I will now proceed in as brief a manner as the subject will allow.

PREPARATION OF SEED BEDS.

Select a fine gray moist spot with sunny exposure along the hollows or near the small drains in the woods. Clear off the brush and leaves, and put down small poles on which to lay the wood to a depth of eighteen or twenty inches. This is then fired and after burning off, hoe up the land to the depth of about three inches. It is then thoroughly prepared by chopping, raking and picking out the roots. Chop in at the same time some hog pen or hen house manure at the rate of one bushel to the twenty square yards. The beds should be rich enough in the start to push the plants forward as soon as they are up. This is done to make sure of a good stand and keep them out of the way of the flies, which are very apt to destroy the backward beds.

After seeding the bed at the rate of a table spoonful of seed to the forty square yards, tramp over with the feet, which compresses the soil and covers the seed. Cover thickly with brush, ditch around to keep off the surface water and no further attention will be needed till the plants are up and have four leaves.

Beds can be prepared at any time, when the soil is not frozen or too wet, from the 13th of November to the 1st of March.

After the plants begin fairly to cover the ground, which is usually from the 10th to the 20th of May, remove the brush, pick out carefully all grass and weeds and commence the application of some concentrated fertilizer once or twice a week, lightly at first and more heavily as the plants will bear; the object being to bring them forward in time for transplanting from the 10th to the 20th of May.

As the successful maturity of the crop depends much upon the character of the plants it is important that they be abundant and forward. To secure this, not less than forty square yards of plant land should be burned and prepared for every acre allotted for the crop.

SOIL.

A light gray sandy soil with yellow clay sub-soil is the favorite, but tobacco of equally fine texture and flavor is made on fine white floury land with similar sub-soil. On any light thin soil with a growth of huckleberry, persimmon, post-oak, black-jack, sourwood, hickory, sweet-gum, or a sprinkling of either of them, the fine yellow will grow. Some of our best planters select old fields grown up in sedge or pines. These produce the very brightest wrappers of fine silky texture, but generally the virgin woodland gives the desired texture with more weight and elasticity.

In Granville county we have come to believe that there is scarcely a farm on which there cannot be found some spots adapted to the growth of yellow tobacco, and no doubt there are suitable soils scattered more or less over the northern and western part of the State as well as the adjacent border counties of Virginia.

FERTILIZERS.

A liberal application of these is an all important prerequisite. While a number of the various brands of manipulated manures are used with success, the writer has only tested fully the genuine Peruvian and the "Anchor Brand" manufactured by the Southern Fertilizing Company of Richmond, Va. This latter has invariably produced good results, both on the seed bed and in the field through a series of years. The planter, however, should accumulate as large a quantity of home-made manures as possible and only use a concentrated fertilizer with a view to give the plant a quick start to secure early maturity.

Preparation of soil: New woodland or piney old field should, after clearing in winter, be broken first with coulters and otherwise prepared as for corn or cotton. Broomsedge old fields should be plowed in the fall previous when the sedge can be turned under green.

New lands are prepared by repeated plowing and made into hills three felt apart as early as March and April, while the hilling of the older lands are delayed till just before planting to prevent their becoming foul with weeds and grass. The rows are laid off 3 to 3½ feet apart, the stronger soil requiring the wider rows.

Mix together all available domestic manures and apply thinly in the drill, so as to reach over the crop, and follow with the concentrated fertilizer at the rate of two hundred to two hundred and fifty pounds per acre. If none of the former is used, apply the latter at the rate of three hundred to four hundred and fifty pounds, according to strength of soil.

PLANTING.

This is commenced about the 1st to 10th of May, and continued till a "stand" is secured, usually about the 10th of June. The plants are drawn from the beds, after a shower, and set in the hills. They should have good roots and be five or six inches long before they are transplanted.

CULTIVATION.

This should commence as soon as the plants take root. Weeding or scraping down the hills with hoes is the first operation; then about two plowings and hoeings, following in quick succession, will be sufficient. Shovel plows are used for the first two plowings, and if a third is given, a cotton sweep is best, always finishing with the hoe to give a large and elevated hill to the plant.

PRIMING AND TOPPING.

When the plants are large enough break off four or five of the bottom leaves and pinch out the buds, leaving about ten leaves on the stalk. The former operation is called "priming" and the latter "topping." Too high priming as well as topping delays the growth of the plant, and, as early maturity is essential to successful curing, the general practice is to prime low and top at not exceeding ten leaves. It requires a nice judgment to tell from the appearance of the plant how many leaves should be left, and nothing except practice can give this. But little topping is done till the cultivation is finished, and when commenced it is continued from week to week until all the plants are topped. As the season advances the number of leaves left to the stalk must be less and less in order to bring the late plants to maturity. This operation should be finished by or before the 10th of August, the great desideratum being to top so as to bring in as much weight of plant as can be matured in time for curing.

TORPID LIVER.

Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Pain in the Head, with a dull sensation in the back part, Pain under the shoulderblade, fullness after eating, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, Weariness, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Yellow Skin, Headache generally over the right eye, Restlessness with fitful dreams, highly colored Urine. IF THESE WARNINGS ARE UNHEEDED, SERIOUS DISEASES WILL SOON BE DEVELOPED.

TUTT'S PILLS are especially adapted to such cases, one dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. If the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says:
"After a practice of 25 years, I pronounce TUTT'S PILLS the best anti-bilious medicine ever made."

Rev. F. R. Osgood, New York, says:
"I have had Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach and Nervousness. I never had any medicine to do me so much good as TUTT'S PILLS. They are as good as represented."

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Bracing.

——No old bonds.

——Cool and clear.

——In demand—overcoats.

——Cotton still rising.

——Revenue receipts, $475.37.

——Rev. N. M. Jurney has gone.

——The thermometer is on the rise.

——Rev. W. C. Norman has returned.

——Rev. N. H. D. Wilson is in the city.

——Judge Avery is at the Yarborough.

——Governor Jarvis has returned to the city.

——Colonel W. L. Saunders has returned from Salisbury.

——And now the festive darkey begins to draw in his toes.

——More cotton yesterday than any other day this season.

——Justice Barbee non-Commissioner Purnell had a case yesterday.

—— Miss Nellie Jewell, Raleigh, has a letter at the post office with no stamp on it.

——You can go to Richmond, attend the Fair and return within seven days for $6.50.

——A drummer's license was yesterday issued to Moale, Armstrong & Chadwick, Baltimore.

——Miss Mollie Mangum, New Light, N. C., has two packages held for insufficient postage at the post office.

——Go to Lincke's gymnasium Tuesday night. It's a real nice place and an institution that should be patronized.

——The Bliss Brothers, the two celebrated clowns, are traveling with Prof. Rogers, the Punch and Judy showman.

——Not an item at the county court house yesterday. Not a marriage license had been issued. 'No sir there has not.'

——A first-class book-keeper would like two or three hours per day employment at that business. See notice and inquire at this office.

——Ten dollars will buy a complete set of "Maury's Wall Maps" (set of eight) and they should be found in every school room in the State. Address Messrs. Alfred Williams & Co.

——Prof. Rogers, with his Punch and Judy show, is again in the city and all who wish to enjoy an hour of pleasure for a small sum should visit his museum to-day at the Beckwith House.

Tuesday night next, in The Sabbath merly occupied by W. B. Hutchings on Fayetteville street. All who wish to spend a real pleasant evening should attend.

——Wayne county has turned over her abstracts to the auditor, as follows: General taxes, $3,923.97; Special, $3,867.39; School, $6,096.01; county $14,817.52. Total valuation of real and personal property in the county, $2,222,827.00, ——Thomas Curtis, John Goram and Charlotte Hill, all colored, were up before His Honor the Mayor yesterday, charged with stealing money from a countryman. The case was dismissed for want of evidence and the non-appearance of a prosecutor.

——Some party has asked the reporter why he didn't run outside matter in this column and fill up, e.c. Simply because this is strictly a local column, and nothing, unless it relates to this town or its people, finds room here. If nothing occurs this column will be devoid of items; if there does, an account of the same will always be found here.

——Wm. Jones, a small colored boy, stole a dollar from Mr. Deopp, accordingly he was trotted out at the mayor's levee yesterday morning. His Honor in consideration of his age did not bind him over to court, but requested his parents to give him a receipt in full in the shape of thirty-nine well laid on lashes, which injunction after his being conducted to the station house was faithfully carried out.

——The Auditor yesterday called the reporter's attention to the fact that only about one half of the abstracts of taxes had been turned into his department. Also that very few more than half of the bonds of the Sheriffs of the different counties had been filed as required by law. Auditor Love is an amiable man and does not wish these parties to become involved in trouble through their neglect, but he has a duty to perform, and that duty, as the law says, requires him to go before the proper authorities of Wake county, accompanied by the Solicitor of this district and take judgment for $1,000 against the delinquents, etc. The law allows until the first Monday in November for the fulfillment of this duty by these officials, and unless that duty is performed, the Auditor must perform his. So come to time and save trouble.

Personal.

General Robert Ransom was in the city yesterday, on his way home from the Salisbury reunion. The General is busy with the Neuse and Trent river improvements, of which he predicts important results.

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

"They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough."—B., Rochester, N. Y. See other column.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, ane is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand rnd without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

Important.

All who appreciate good goods at a low price will find our stock of men and boys' clothing, furnishing goods, hats, etc., the largest ever brought to Raleigh. Knowing our prices will certainly save you money in buying clothing, etc.

R. B. ANDREWS & COMPANY,
Clothiers and Hatters. *

You Will Find it True!

"The proof of the pudding, is the chewing of the bag," and so an inspection will show we have the largest and best selected stock of clothing, furnishing goods, hats, etc., in the State and at the lowest living prices.

R. B. ANDREWS & Co.,
Clothiers and Hatters. *

For Rent.

A dwelling House, containing three large rooms and passage and all necessary outhouses. Situated on Swain street. Apply at NEWS office. *

Clothing.

The largest and best selected stock at
L. ROSENTHAL & Co.'s,
Fayetteville street.

For gentlemen's furnishing goods, clothing, etc., go to
J. M. ROSENBAUM'S.

But Just to Say.

It is but just to say that the firm of Steele & Price were the first to place in the market articles for culinary purposes that are strictly pure and wholesome. Their Dr. Price's Cream baking powder has obtained its popularity and extensive sale by its purity and wholesomeness. *

What is Hay Fever?

This fashionable disorder is supposed to be an affection of the mucous membrane of the nose. They say that Henry's Carbolic salve will cure it if used freely and persistently. Give it a trial. Beware of counterfeits.

Neuralgine.

This specific for neuralgia and headache is offered to the public not as a KING CURE-ALL, but as only good for neuralgia and headache. For these troubles it is unfailing. Every bottle guaranteed if taken according to directions. Sold by PESCUD, LEE & Co.,
oct4—d&wly. Raleigh, N. C.

A Card.

All who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a receipt that will cure you, free of charge. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City.

Gun and Locksmiths

Brockwell & King, near the rear of the U. S. Court House, on Salisbury street, are prepared to repair in first-class style, Breech-loading and Muzzle-loading Shot Guns and fire arms of every description. They also repair Door Locks, Trunk Locks, and locks of all patterns, Umbrellas, Parasols, Fluting machines, and everything in the line of small hardware, either brass, steel or iron. Sign and Bell hanging a specialty. Orders from a distance will receive special attention. Keys fitted at residences on short notice. All work warranted *

Three Stores.

In order to accommodate the large and growing trade we have been favored with, we have for the past two years been compelled to occupy three stores, all of which were never so well filled with desirable goods as they are this season.

L. ROSENTHAL & Co.,
Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, &c., &c.

Merchants, Milliners and Dress Makers who have bought the mile-end cotton from Yeargan, Petty & Co., say the different shades and colors equal silk in their exquisite beauty.

Neuralgine.

This is not a KING CURE-ALL. But is only good for Neuralgia and Headache. For these troubles it is the only specific known. Sold by all the leading druggists. tf.

Paralysis.

Which so often arrests the steps of business men and hard brain-workers after they have passed middle life, might in most cases be prevented by an occasional use of "Compound Oxygen." Nature usually gives a timely warning of the approach of danger from this direction, and they are wise who heed it. Get our "Treatise on Compound Oxygen" and learn all about this new cure. It is sent free. Address Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1112 Girard St., Phila., Pa.

Impression.

It is generally supposed by physicians and the people generally that Dyspepsia can not invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that Green's August Flower has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Sick Headache, palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, &c. Out of the 50,000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by all druggists. *

Goods at Bottom Prices.

Talking about the liver, we presume that ill temper is more often caused by a disordered liver than anything else. To insure a cheerful disposition take Rosadalis, the great Southern Remedy, which will remove the prime cause, and restore the mind to its natural equilibrium. *

For Sale.

The warehouse now occupied by me on good terms. Apply, JOB OSBORN.

Ale, Porter and Mineral Waters.

My facilities for the delivery of the above in bottles or kegs, are superior to any in the State. Prices as low as the lowest. Country orders solicited.

M. BILLS, Raleigh, N. C.
City Botling Works.

Admired by All.

Every person who has used Dr. Price's Unique perfumes admire them. His Pet Rose is charming—the fragrance of sweet blossoms; his Evening Violet delicately delightful—the odor of dainty buds; while his Floral Riches surpass in rich, fresh flowery ordor any cologne or toilet water ever made.

For Sale.

A good dwelling house on Saunders street, with eight rooms, kitchen etc. Also a vacant lot part cash, balance on long time. Apply, to W. W. Vass. d1m.

Call and see W. T. Blackwell & Co., at Durham, and they will gladly show you through their mamouth manufacturing establishment, and immense storage warehouses, and let you be the judge as to who buys the finest tobacco made in the city, and that will settle the question.

VEST POCKET CURE 25¢ DYSPEPSIA 25¢ CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE.

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C.
I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.)
It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who have written this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va.
Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics, Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, LL. D., Col. Va.
It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward P. E., Na. Conf.
About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Falling in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.
I have used the mixture in my family for years and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va.
It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate.
This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists. In Raleigh, by
